

HIGH SCHOOL PARENTS

Helpful hints for the new school year:

The high school daily bulletin can be found at:

<http://nhs.needham.k12.ma.us/bulletins/> You will find all the information about daily activities at the high school in the daily bulletin.

If you have not signed up for the Listserve and Reverse 911 emails, please do so. The link can be found at: <http://nhs.needham.k12.ma.us/core/OurSchool>. You will see the application link on the left hand side of the page.

The Special Education page can be found when you click on the "Student Services" link on the left hand side of the page and then by clicking on the "Special Education" link.

As always you may directly contact your special education liaison or the Director of Special Education at Needham High School with any questions pertaining to programming or services. The Special Education Parents Advisory Council (SEPAC) has a wealth of information regarding education and support for the parents of children with special needs. The high school parent liaisons and next meeting dates can be found at: www.needhamsepac.org
